IN SENATE OF THE UNITED STATES.

APRIL 24, 1838.
Read, and ordered to be printed.

Mr. Bayard, from the Select Committee appointed on the 26th of March, on the subject of the 47th rule of the Senate, reported the following as a substitute therefor:

Rule 47. The following persons, and none others, shall be admitted on the floor of the Senate: Members of the House of Representatives, and their clerk; the Secretary of State, the Secretary of the Treasury, the Secretary of War, the Secretary of the Navy, the Attorney General, and the Postmaster General; the Private Secretary of the President, Chaplains to Congress, Judges of the United States, Foreign Ministers, and their secretaries; officers who, by name, have received, or shall hereafter receive, the thanks of Congress for their gallantry and good conduct in the service of their country, or who have received medals by a vote of Congress; the Governor for the time being of any State or Territory of the Union; the ex-Governors of the several States; such gentlemen as have been heads of departments, or members of either branch of Congress; persons who, for the time being, belong to the respective State and Territorial Legislatures, and persons belonging to such Legislatures of foreign Governments as are in amity with the United States; two reporters for each of the daily papers, and one reporter for each tri-weekly paper published in the city of Washington, whose names shall be communicated in writing, by the editors of those papers, to the Secretary of the Senate, and who shall confine themselves to the seats now provided for them.

Blair & Rives, printers.

We hope our interactory tour in what the generals benevolered of the beam powerds the white was in the day of their weakness and distress; and not overing the continue of another and justice.

and may to the service of THE UNITED STATES, the planting of the service of the s a the art was the mercial, 18881 ASSIMPLA CONTY.

Service of the sections and issuing about brishing and filed the resetting, best in the second of the party of these translations described in the land of the lan

Mr. Bayard, from the Select Committee appointed on the 26th of March, on the subject of the Arth rate of the Senate, reported the following as a substitute therefor:

Rue, 47. The following persons, and none others, shall be admitted on the floor of the Segate: Members of the House of Representatives, and their clerk; the Secretary of State, the Secretary of the Treasury, the Secretary of War, the Secretary of the Navy, the Austropy (Seneral; and the Postmaster General; the Private Secretary of the President, Chaplains to Congress, Indges of the United States, Foreign Ministers, and their secretaries; officers with by mane, have received, or shall hereafter receive, the thanks of Congress for their gallantry and good conduct in the service of their country, or who have received medats by a vote of Congress; the Governor for the time being of any State or Tarritory of the Union; the departments, or members of aither braich of Congress; persons who, for the time being, being to such Legislatures and Persons belonging to such Legislatures of foreign Governorits tures, and persons belonging to such Legislatures of foreign Governorits tures, and one reporter for each tri-workly paper published in the city of Washington, whose naises shall be communicated in withing, by the editors of these papers, to the Secretary of the Senate, and who shall confine themselves to the seals now provided for them.

Slair & Rives, printers